Local Filmmaker in contract with Ashton Kutcher's company Katalyst

Local filmmaker Raymond Cinemato signs contract with Ashton Kutcher's company Katalyst, same week his Academy-recognized film "1:03AM" to screen at the SoCal Film Festival.

Raymond Cinemato, a resident of Huntington Beach in the OC has been shooting in and around the town for years; More than just an alumni of Chapman University in downtown Orange and Marina High in Huntington Beach, he is on the cusp of being the next big producer and director from the area.

Having recently taken 1st place at Ashton Kutcher and Intel's "IdeaJam" contest for the project he directed and co-produced with his partners at his company "CrashPad Media," Raymond Cinemato and company went on to finalize a shopping agreement this week for the project "Crash @ My Pad" with the new "Two and a Half Men" star's company, Katalyst Films.

Raymond Cinemato was also honored by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his short film "1:03AM" which will be screening this week at the SoCal Film Festival on Saturday at 12PM during the "Shorts: Dramatic Mix 02" program.

Raymond Cinemato also co-owns the production company JaR Productions with his brother Joseph Cinemato and the company CrashPad Media with Greg Burke, Matthew Ladensack, Chris Strickland, Krista Suh, Michael Sasso, and Akello Stone.

Raymond and brother Joseph have been happily producing in Orange County for years.
